

NILOS Moot Court Competition 2019

The School of Law of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens will participate in the first edition of the NILOS Moot Court Competition, which will take place in Utrecht, The Netherlands on 22-24 May 2019.

The team of the University of Athens will participate in the first moot court simulating proceedings under Part XV of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea. The moot court will simulate proceedings before the International Tribunal of the Law of the Sea (ITLOS) or the International Court of Justice (ICJ) or an Annex VII Arbitral Tribunal. The competition will be a unique opportunity to discuss fascinating issues of the law of the sea and also to engage with the many procedural facets of international dispute settlement.

We need to select a team of 3 to 5 members. The competition is open to all law students, undergraduate and postgraduate alike, both those enrolled for the academic year 2017-2018 and the incoming class of the academic year 2018-2019. They are invited to send a full CV as expression of interest to Associate Professor Maria Gavouneli: mgavoun@law.uoa.gr with copy to Dr. Efthymios Papastavridis: papastavridis@Academyofathens.gr and Mr. Antonis Antonopoulos: a_antonis@law.uoa.gr. The deadline for applications is 21 October 2018, by 12:00 noon. The first meeting will take place on 22 October 2018 at 17:00, in the Athens PIL Room (Akademias 47, 3rd floor).

You may find more information on the Competition, the case and schedule of events, at <https://www.uu.nl/en/netherlands-institute-for-the-law-of-the-sea-nilos/nilos-moot-court-competition>